Our Community

There was a time when Lincoln's community included not only all of Portland but reached out to embrace the region for miles around.

Gradually the area of Portland's oldest high school was limited to the West Side; next year it will again be reduced with the opening of the new Woodrow Wilson High School.

Still Lincoln's community, the downtown area, will be rich in the things it provides for the embellishment and deepening of educational work.

Foreword

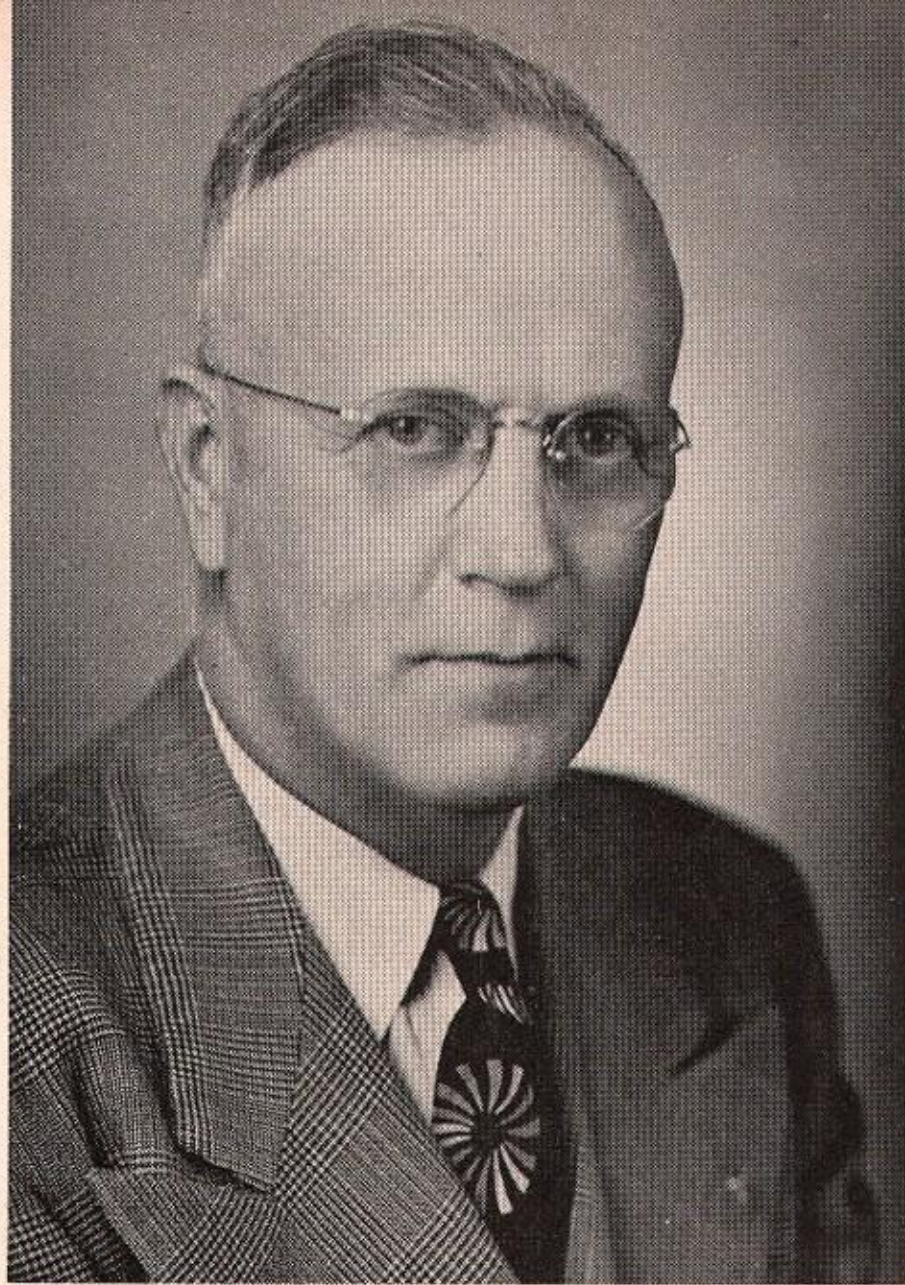

"No man is an island, entire of itself," said John Donne; and as truly may it be said that no school is an institution entire of itself. A school is an inseparable part of the community in which it is situated, and of that community's past history, its present activities, and its future hopes.

How fortunate are the schools of Portland, Oregon, that they exist in a city which for over one hundred years has believed in and supported public education. How fortunate is Lincoln High School, in particular, that it receives such friendly support from its immediate neighborhood, and that it enjoys the continued and enthusiastically expressed interest and goodwill of its thousands of graduates not only in the community but scattered throughout the world.

SUPERINTENDENT JONATHAN W. EDWARDS

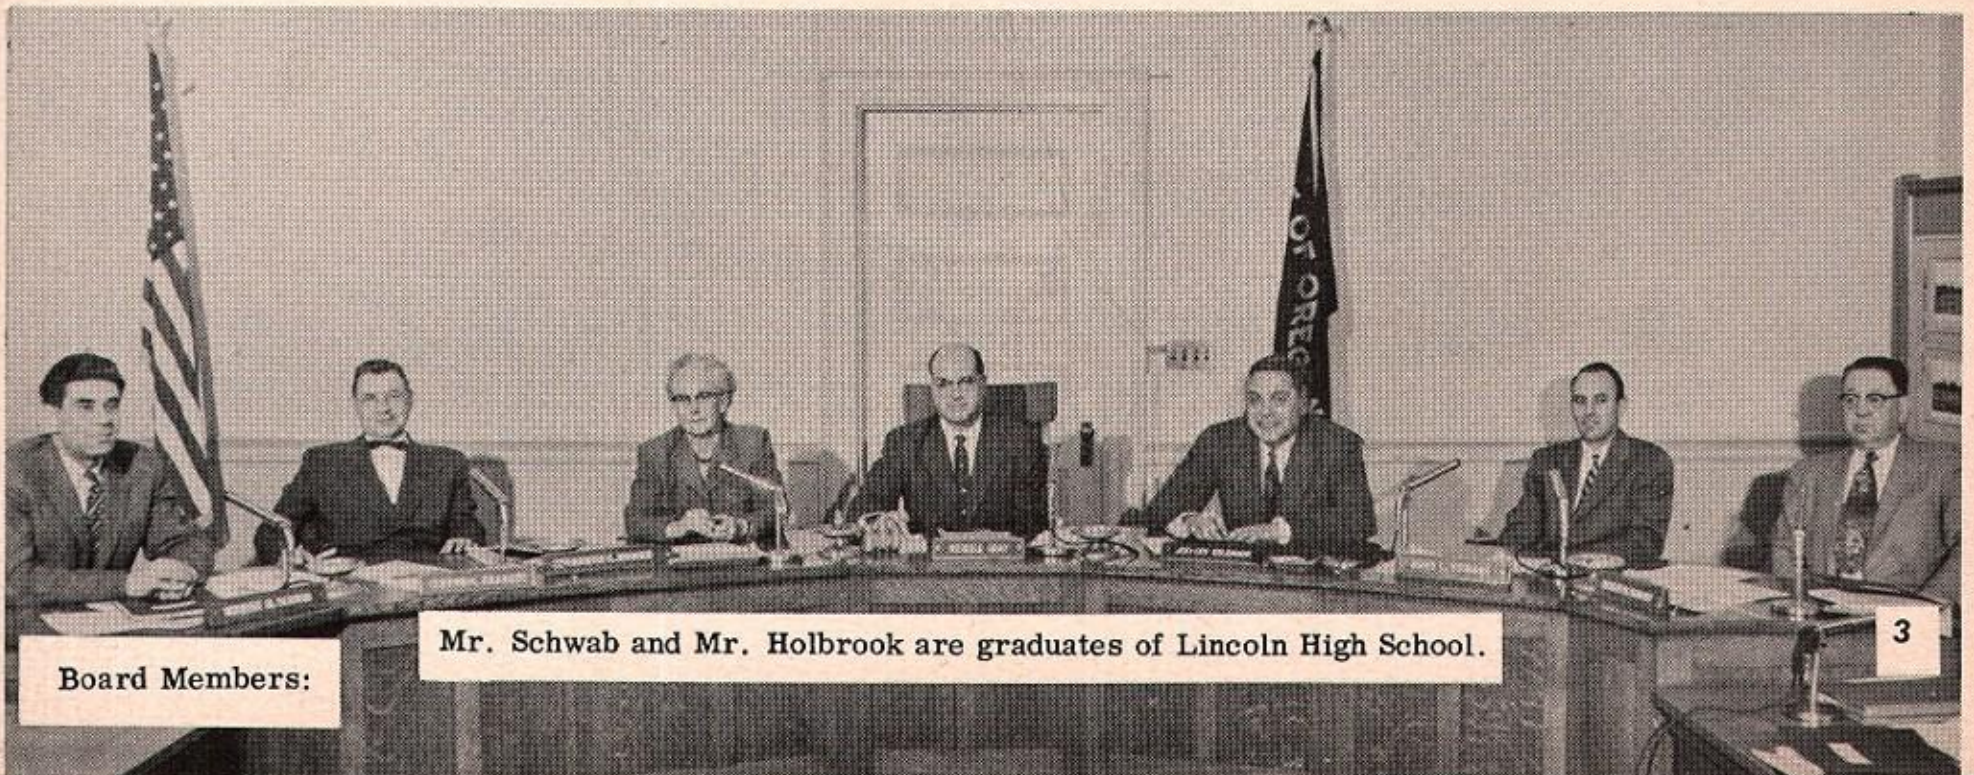

He started his Portland career as a classroom teacher and coach at Lincoln High School.

Superintendent J. W. Edwards knows thoroughly every part of the Portland School System. Having been an employee of the district for over thirty years, and having worked as classroom teacher, coach, department head, and assistant superintendent, he has learned by experience to appreciate the problems of all school personnel.

The rapid growth of Portland's school population has posed many difficulties which Mr. Edwards and the Board of Directors meet each year with courage, determination, and integrity. From year to year the School Board is made up of intelligent and generous citizens who perform an outstanding service to the schools and to the city.

Below: Mr. Herbert M. Schwab, Mr. Clifford E. Zollinger, Dr. Dorothy O. Johansen, Mr. Wendell Gray, Mr. Jeffery Holbrook, Mr. James C. Yeomans, and Mr. R. M. Robson.

Mr. Schwab and Mr. Holbrook are graduates of Lincoln High School.

Board Members:

Seated around the fountain, and under the blossoming branches of the old Kamm cherry tree, a science class and teacher bask in the glory and beneficence of spring. Such a scene, no doubt, would have pleased Judge Kraemer.

Dedication

Keeping in mind its theme, The School and The Community, the Cardinal Yearbook staff respectfully dedicates the 1956 edition to the late Otto J. Kraemer. His career exemplified the ideals of citizenship which every good school hopes to inculcate. His was a life of warm friendliness, of quiet, wholesome counsel, of generous community service.

On his death, Mr. Kraemer left a bequest of $5,000 for the construction of a fountain or fountains at the new Lincoln High School. A decorative fountain has been planned for the courtyard, and will be completed shortly.

Mr. Kraemer also left $1,000 to the School District which is currently being used as prize money for annual essay contests among senior social studies students in all the Portland high schools.

JUDGE OTTO J. KRAEMER
1874 - 1951

Graduate of Portland High School 1892
Father of Lincoln graduates Kenneth and Richard

Born on October 25, 1874, in Portland, Otto J. Kraemer had the pleasure until his death in 1951 of watching the city and its schools grow. In his youth, his family moved from their home where the Circle Theatre now stands to a house on Southwest Main Street, just half a block from the new Lincoln High School. In his youth he played (when permitted) on the Kamm Estate and even ventured as far as the Chinese vegetable gardens where the athletic field and the Multnomah Stadium now are. He caught an occasional trout in the stream that ran down Canyon Road and through the Stadium. Mr. Kraemer later attended the old Portland High School, the University of Oregon Law School, at that time located in Portland, and after a few years on the bench, spent the remainder of his life practicing and teaching law.

A contemporary of Miss Lillian Edna Amos and of the late Miss Emma Griebel who taught at Lincoln for many years, he was active in Portland High School alumni activities. This interest was increased when his sons Kenneth and Richard attended Lincoln in the middle 1930's.

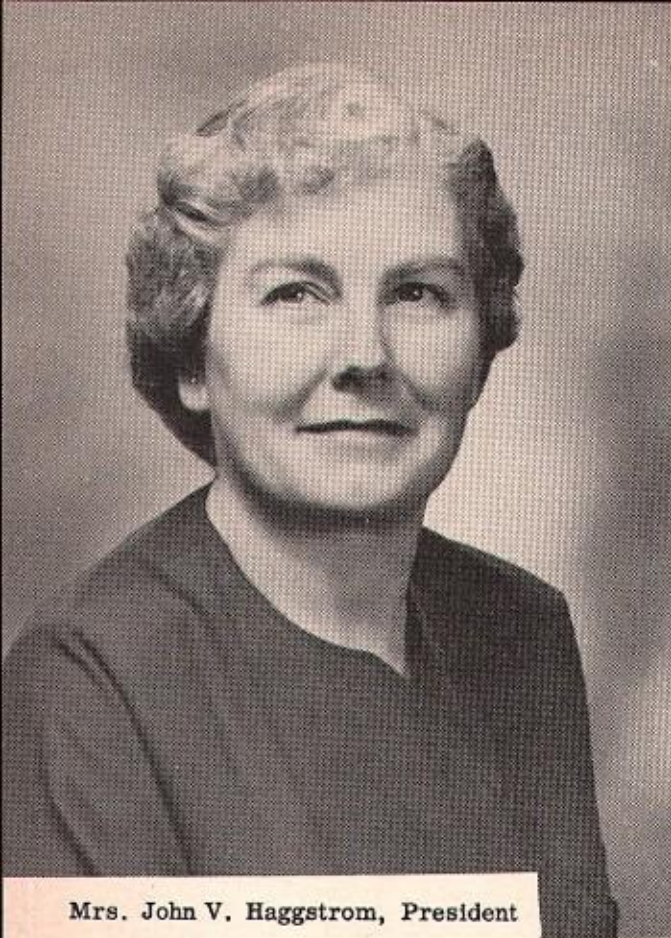

Lincoln's PTA

The closest and most natural tie-in a school can have with its community is through its interested parent organizations. Lincoln's P. T. A. membership is 1280, one of the largest in the Northwest.

P. T. A. SUMMARY 1955-56

1. We published the Summer edition of the Cardinal newspaper. We made history with that issue! No other PTA can boast publishing a school paper, with editorials, news stories, pictures, and some lively "Summer clock-rocking!" We got the "ads," too!
2. The PTA did a large-scale promotion job, selling football Jamboree tickets.
3. The PTA, Dads' Club, and the student body assisted with the Chrysanthemum show, thus adding $650 to the Lincoln High Scholarship Fund.
4. The best cooks, west of the Willamette, contributed to our bake sale. Result, $360.
5. The successful Rummage sale brought us $750.
6. The PTA is sponsoring the Senior Class picnic, June 5, and the Senior Tea, May 8.
7. Three delegates were sent to the State PTA Convention at Eugene.
8. Study Groups for parents were established at class level. "What our schools are doing for our teenagers" proved a popular discussion topic at several meetings.
9. Work has been done through the Portland Council of PTA, and our special services department to promote a broader High School Dental program.

Dad's Club

Lincoln's Dads' Club materialized from a small active group of interested fathers, back in the late 1920's, who were primarily concerned with the limited athletic facilities of the old school on Park and Broadway.

The first regular Dads' Club president selected by this early group was Mr. W. A. Robb, now retired, who is the father of five Lincoln grads: Eleanor, Bill, Sam, Hersey, and Tom. He is also the grandfather of recent and present Lincolniters Ted and Kathie Gerlinger.

During Mr. Robb's tenure the Dads' Club Service Awards were instituted, and the first bronze plaque purchased.

From its original limited purpose, the Dads have enlarged their scope of interest to include the promotion of all types of school activities: scholastic, athletic, and social.

Mr. Richardson and Mrs. Jackson check a successful United Fund season.

Lincoln's community is clearly visible from every window and door of the building; the administration and staff look out and becon; the patrons of the school come in, freely and often. There is not a day nor an evening in which the building and its services along with the teachers and their talents are not in some way placed at the disposal of the neighborhoods.

A PTA post-session.

TOP-LEVEL COMMITTEE

Principal Olin L. Wills with Vice Principals Francis Trusty, Mildred Bassett, and Gaynor Petrequin.

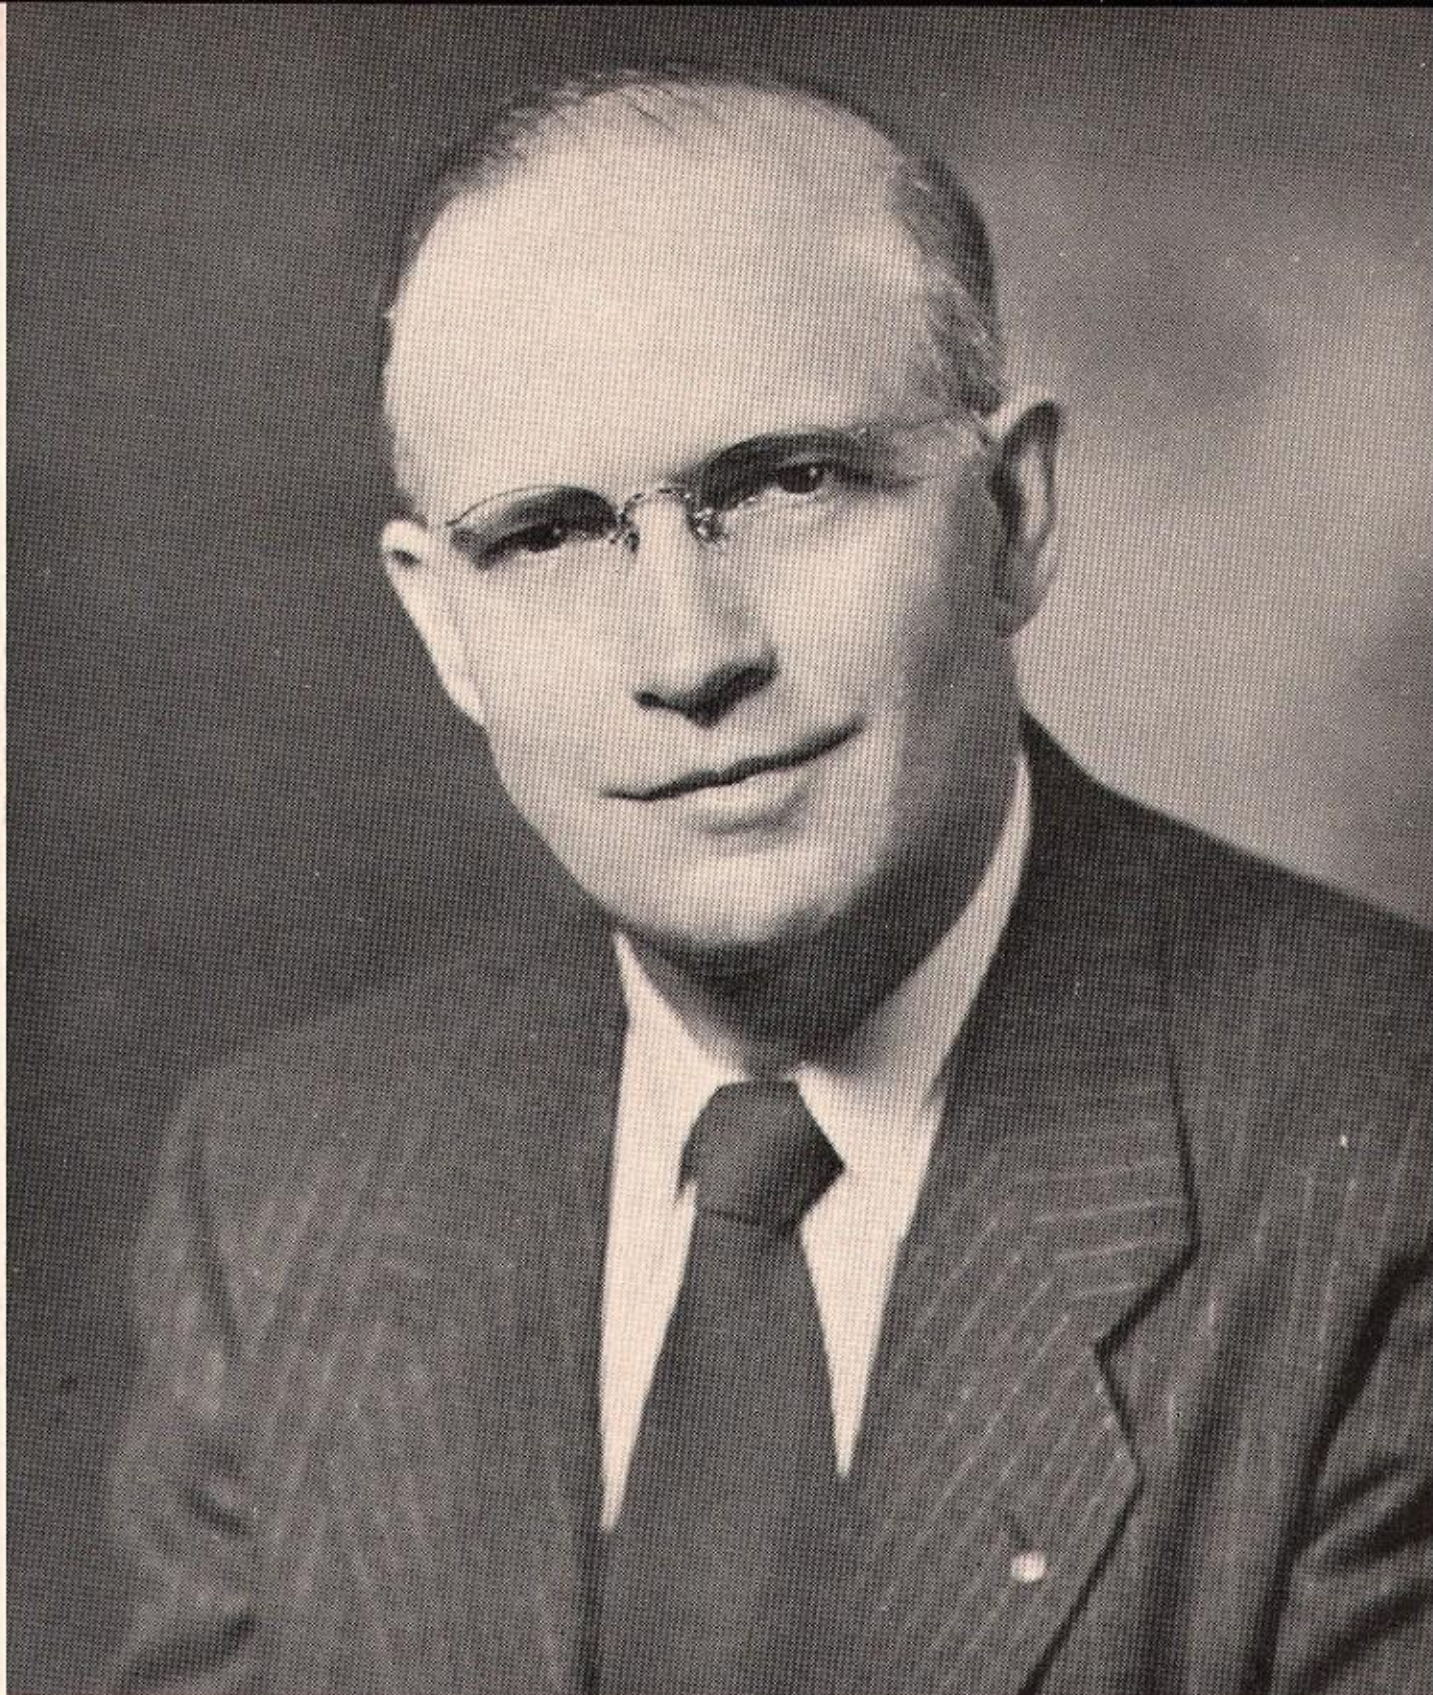

The principal and vice-principals, assisted by a competent corps of counselors, teachers, secretaries, and cafeteria and custodial workers, have during the year 1955-56 provided instruction for a student body of over eighteen hundred members.

OLIN L. WILLS, PRINCIPAL

Mr. Wills, who is now rounding out a decade as Lincoln's principal, was a seasoned member of the West Side community before being elevated to his present position. His two-year tenure as vice-principal at Portland's Franklin High School was preceded by a period as teacher of mathematics and physics at Lincoln, beginning in the 1920's. Beside his teaching duties he served as adviser to publications, and supervised the school's book store and finance.

Like every busy executive, Mr. Wills finds that his individual job, which in his case is the general planning for and supervision of the school's program, is sufficiently heavy to require all of his time. However, as a conscientious member of the community, he does not decline membership and committee work in a limited number of civic organizations. Three groups which he feels best co-ordinate with useful projects related to secondary education are: Kiwanis Club, Community Council, and Portland Traffic Safety Council.

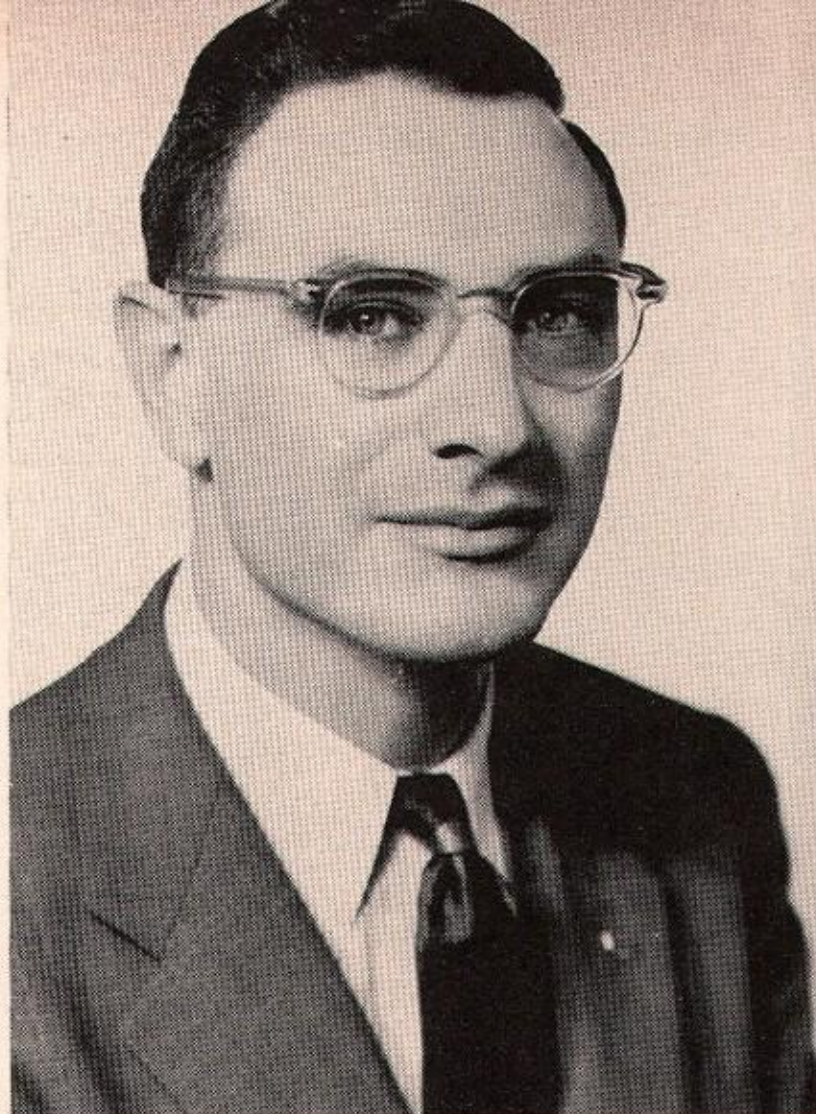

Mr. Wills is also a past director of the Portland Civic Opera Company.

IN MEMORIAM

Paul Heller came to Lincoln High School in 1925 and for thirty years gave superlative service to generations of students and to the Lincoln community.

Mr. Heller was primarily a science man, with physics as his specialty; but he could and did handle general science, biology, chemistry, and algebra - as the program required. He also served as a coach in football and track in his earlier years; but he turned more recently to counseling for that close, warm association with students which he so much enjoyed.

Beside his work at Lincoln, Mr. Heller taught in many summer sessions; and for years he served on the staff of the Portland Extension evening classes. A devout Presbyterian, he labored for his church unflaggingly, especially as a worker at the beautiful Menucha Conference Grounds up the Columbia River. It was there that he suffered the first of a series of heart attacks which led to his death in the fall of 1955. He is survived by his wife and one son.

A genial, kindly man who always maintained a quiet, cheerful outlook in his work with students and fellow teachers, Mr. Heller is deeply missed by all who knew him.

Classes

The classes at Lincoln are numerous and varied, for Lincoln is a comprehensive high school. "Comprehensive" means that courses are provided for all types of students with all manners of tastes and talents.

Lincoln has wood and metal shops for students with mechanical abilities. There are varied courses in the arts, graphic, metal, and crafts; and the school provides superlative courses in vocal and instrumental music. Commercial classes are large and popular.

Still Lincoln leans to the academic side, for many of our students are preparing for colleges with strict entrance requirements. The academic courses are strong. Mathematics, science, English, and the languages are stressed.

SENIORS - CLASS SUMMARY

From the Freshie Frolic in the fall at which the seniors entertained the incoming freshman to the beautiful P.T.A. tea party at the Chuinard home on May 8 and the Oriental Moonlight prom on May 12 the class of 1956 has had a busy social season.

The class has taken a spirited part in all school activities, taking honors in the Pop Cycles kick-off assembly; putting on two excellent class plays; and furnishing most of the talent in music, speech, sports, and contest winning.

In the field of scholarship the class has furnished an unusually large number of high ranking members in the National Honor Society.

In other sections of this yearbook a record will be found of the accomplishments of individual members of the class.

TESTING! TESTING! TESTING!

Above: The above scene, set in the library and showing the seniors giving concentrated attention to their writing for the annual Kraemer Essay contest, is typical of their concern with Lincoln's extensive testing program. Some of the tests in which the seniors have been asked to participate are: College Boards, All-City English Composition Test, Merit Scholarship Test, Honor Society Test, Math Comprehensive, and the College Board Experimental Test.

At Right and Below: A senior English class under Miss Frances Elmer shows three of her many methods of approach: Individual instruction; class conference and committee work.

The Class of 1957 has had a successful and enthusiastic cabinet which has planned and executed a great many events. Among these were an after game dance, and a successful sale of Cardinal buttons and leis.

The Class has been represented this year in clubs, sports, musical activities, Pop Cycles, seminar classes, and the National Honor Society. Their class play, "What A Life," was a thorough and enjoyable success. The charming Camellia queen was Junior Pat Holcomb. "Oriental Moonlight" was the theme of the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Three juniors who will have the privilege of traveling to Europe this summer under the American Field Service are: Sue Fisher, to Greece; Barry Dowsett, to Germany; and Bill Farrens, to Norway. Juniors Peter Rubstein and Joanne Gevurtz have won many awards in essay and speech contests; and Andy Dawes has received many honors for his wonderful violin playing. Dagmar Takko has shown fine talent in the field of ballet.

The Cabinet has already made plans for next fall, and the whole Junior Class is looking forward to a splendid senior year.

The Sophomore Social, which took place early in the year, accomplished what it was designed to do; it brought all members of the class together in a friendly fashion, and at the same time demonstrated class support of all J. V. teams.

The class cabinet has taken its weekly meetings very seriously, say their counselors, and at press time the membership is carrying on a "Memory Book" sale to raise funds.

As a group the class won a close second place in the Pop Cycles ticket sale. They also have an active Courtesy Committee which helps new students to become adjusted and which calls upon classmates who are ill.

Individual members who have won distinction in the class are: Greg Baldwin who won an Oregon Gold Key and a National Place in the Scholastic Art Contest; Micky Lolich and Paul Goddard who have shown outstanding ability in sports; Ruth Clark, Dennis Kahlar, and Vernon Brazzle who are members of A Cappella Choir; and Linda Clark and Tom Stoel who won second and third places in the Americanization Essay Contest.

The Class of 1959, like all other incoming freshmen, really started their high school career last spring when the vice-principals and counselors visited the neighboring elementary schools and helped each student to plan a program. Also last spring there was the annual meeting for freshman parents to acquaint them with Lincoln's curriculum. Then in September, a few days before school began, the newcomers spent a day at school, paying fees, receiving their handbooks, learning school yells and songs, meeting the teachers, student body officers, and Rally Squad, touring the building, and enjoying refreshments.

During their freshman year they have worked very well together and are giving promise of being a very cooperative and well-organized group, say their counselors. All of their committees have done good jobs without pressure.

They showed their unusual school spirit by winning a prize of $50 in the Pop Cycles Ticket Sale.

A double cabinet has been elected by this class so that there will be officers to get started at the new Woodrow Wilson High School next year.

Organizations

The student organization of a large high school rivals in its complexity that of our federal government and our modern society.

There is no doubt that in school, as well as in the outside world, there are pressures upon people to "do things". Lincoln students find it very difficult, if not impossible to live a withdrawn life of mere scholarship. Students are pulled into one or many organizations, depending upon their time, tastes, and talents. From committees of two or three individuals to service groups, like the Fire Squad, of about one hundred members, there are places for all Lincolmites to exercise themselves in the modes of modern living, groups for school politics, service, and sociability.

Each organization has its adviser, a teacher, a parent, or both.

The school "Cabinet Class" and political set-up is taught and directed by Miss Frances Elmer.

SENIOR SESSION

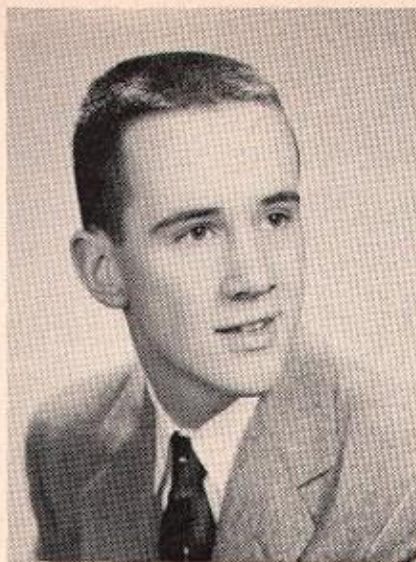

Seated. Miss Ruth Arbuckle, senior girls' counselor, Anne Markewitz, Pat North, Ruta Trapans
 Standing: Weldon Meier, Matthew Riddle, Gene Paul

65

Miss Ruth Arbuckle, counselor for senior girls, college counselor, and chairman of the Scholarship Committee, is one of the most useful and sought after members of the Lincoln staff. With Mr. Roy Lindsay, senior boys' counselor, she has directed and advised all senior committee work, and has given inestimable service in college counseling, both with the seniors and their parents, in planning meetings with representatives from colleges, and in writing recommendations.

Here is the Spring Cabinet, looking proud and happy on the outside, but perhaps quaking a bit on the inside.

Fall Cabinet

1. Reorganization of the room rep council providing for increased power and a more efficient student government.
2. Reopened the rec room to establish a place of recreation for students during the noon hour.
3. Set up a series of social nights, thereby furthering the social opportunities of students.
4. Initiated and set up noon movies, providing entertainment for those interested during the noon hour.
5. Sent several delegates to the Region III Student Government Conference.
6. Selected and appointed student body committees.
7. Carried through successfully the Red Cross and United Fund campaigns.
8. Worked out recommendations for the spring cabinet.
9. Introduced the Cardinal Editor Amendment, insuring freedom of choice as to candidates.

SPRING CABINET STATEMENT

January 25 saw the new student body president, Gordon Kee, rapping his gavel in Room 101 to start the spring cabinet on its way through a term of sincere and hard work for the betterment and the benefit of Lincoln high.

Re-instating the suggestion box and establishing "Calling the Cabinet" in the Cardinal were the new cabinet's first projects for better student-cabinet contact.

In student interest the cabinet instituted the "Red and White Nights" and assembly organization; and, with the rally squad, decided to make one of the three rally boys the yell king.

Rose Princess, budget, rally, and nominating committees were selected. Representatives from the cabinet were sent to the Region III conferences and recommendations were prepared for the 1956 cabinet.

The term of the spring cabinet came to an end with a banquet given for the new cabinet.

Activities

Lincoln's slogan for years has been: An activity for everyone, and everyone in an activity.

These activities provide for all manners of talents--dramatic, musical, literary, social, etc.

This year the outstanding activity has been performed by The Tillamook Burn Squad, supervised by Mr. Cal Foulk of the Biology department.

The tree planters, working with their advisor and a representative from the U. S. Forestry Department, have made several trips into the vast Tillamook burnt-over area to help with reforestation.

On their last trip the students broke all records by planting 6,100 seedlings.

Dances

Informal

School dances at Lincoln are varied in style and generous in number. The after-game stag or drag affairs occur after all evening athletic contests and are staged at the school where the game is played. After training in their P.E. classes, all students feel "qualified" to take part in these spontaneous mixers.

Dances

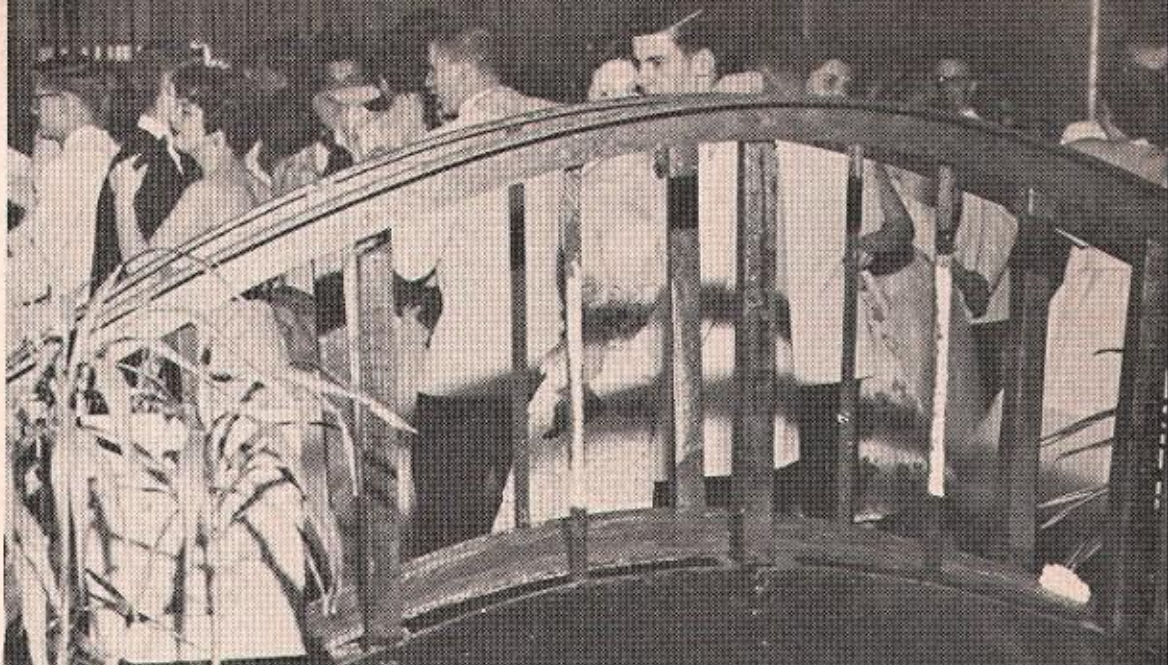

Formal

The real thrills of dating come with the big dances, such as the semi-formal Student Body "Date-and-Dress," and similar affairs staged by Optimist Club, Decon, and Kappa Zeta.

The big All-City dance, including students from all Portland high schools, is called "Heels and Hose."

Of course the two "stupendous" dances are the Christmas Formal and the Junior-Senior Prom. Then everything glitters!

The May Fete dance, the last of the 1956 spring season, is designated as "Dressy Cotton."

Vocal Music

The Vocal Ensemble and the A Cappella Choir are busy throughout the year, raising their melodious voices for the pleasure of our community.

Beside their regular traditional programs on holidays, the singing groups average more than two programs each month away from school.

Beginning with appearances at the Waverly Masonic Temple and the Crystal Ballroom in the early fall, the vocalists have sung at luncheon clubs, hospitals, on radio and television, and at banquets, bringing honors upon themselves and Lincoln High School.

One All-City school program in which they took part was the pageant, "Land of the Empire Builders."

The Choir scheduled its own banquet for May 26.

Athletics

WADE "Whizzer" Williams
Long-time Lincoln teacher and Coach

Lincoln's athletic program suffered in the days when the school occupied its old home facing the Park Blocks. Substantial though the building was structurally, its small, dark, inadequate gymnasium brought forth many adverse comments, and for years the gym was referred to on sports pages as "Lincoln's Black Hole." To make matters worse, the outdoor exercise space was confined to a one-half block, wire-enclosed area known as the "Bird Cage."

Interested parents and coaches chafed, and little by little, a movement started, led by the men pictured on this page (the early Dads' Club members) to provide better athletic facilities.

These far-sighted dads spotted the Kamm tract, they urged its purchase; finally the school district placed the option, and work was begun. And so, after a quarter of a century of planning and working together, the Lincoln community enjoys, along with its superlative school plant, the finest athletic facilities to be found in the Northwest.

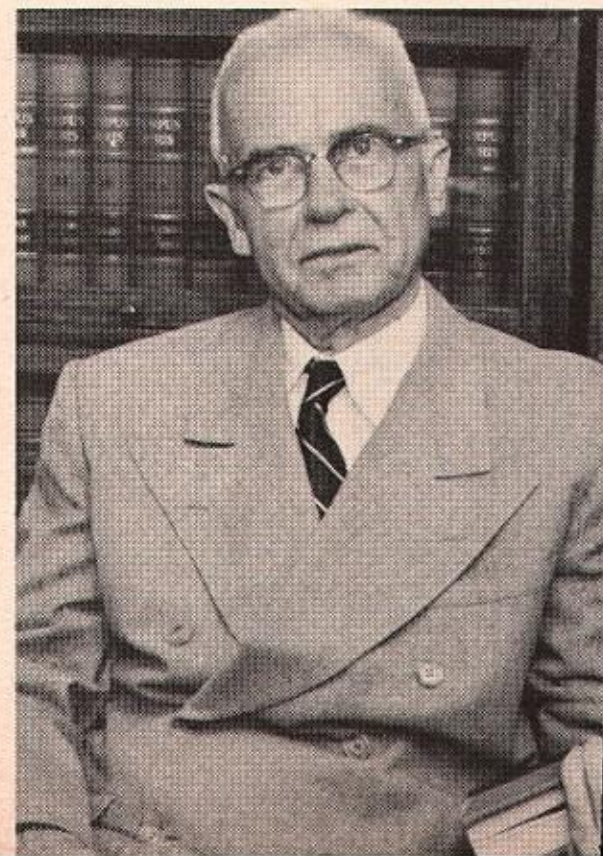

We pay tribute to the men who dreamed dreams and saw visions.

Coaches watch expectantly

Lincoln stalwart listens to Post Mortem

All-City Doherty converses amicably with Washingtonian.

The 1955 Lincoln High School football team, under the able direction of Bob Signer and his line coach Bob Sweet, again, for the second year, made the city of Portland realize that Lincoln is hard to beat in football along with the other sports.

After losing the pre-season game to Pendleton 38-7; and the first PIL contest, a heartbreaker to Grant by a score of 8-7, the Cards began to improve. The able Ax-men chopped Benson 25-6, and in turn the next week were beaten by Washington 31-14. In the Franklin game, the men in red got even for the loss of the city title of the year before by waxing Franklin 25-7.

Varsity Football

Lincolnites down after advancing the ball

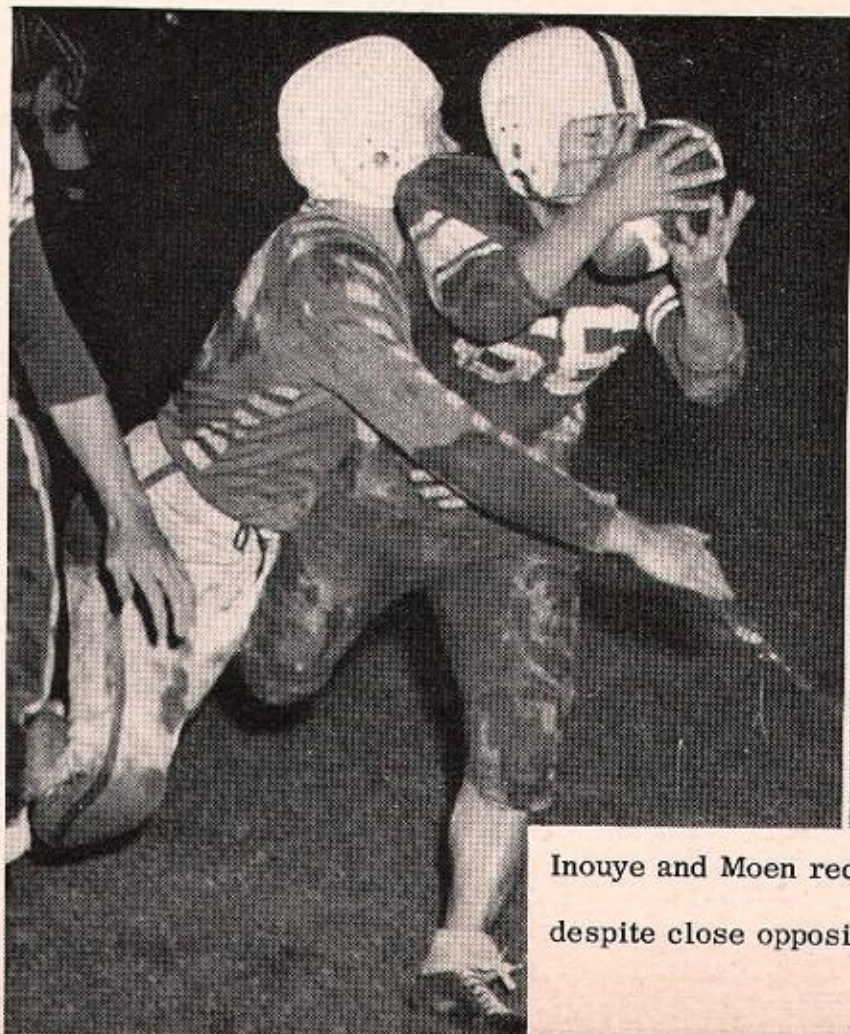

The Jefferson game was the heartbreak of heartbreaks. Leading the Demos 13-12, the Cards gave the ball over on downs to Jefferson with two minutes and forty-five seconds left to play. Three plays later, with five seconds left to play, Jeff scored their final touchdown to beat the hard fighting Railsplitters. It later proved to be the deciding factor between second place with a chance at Pendleton again, and third place in the city.

After Jefferson, the fired-up squad made short work of Cleveland and Roosevelt by identical scores of 13-0.

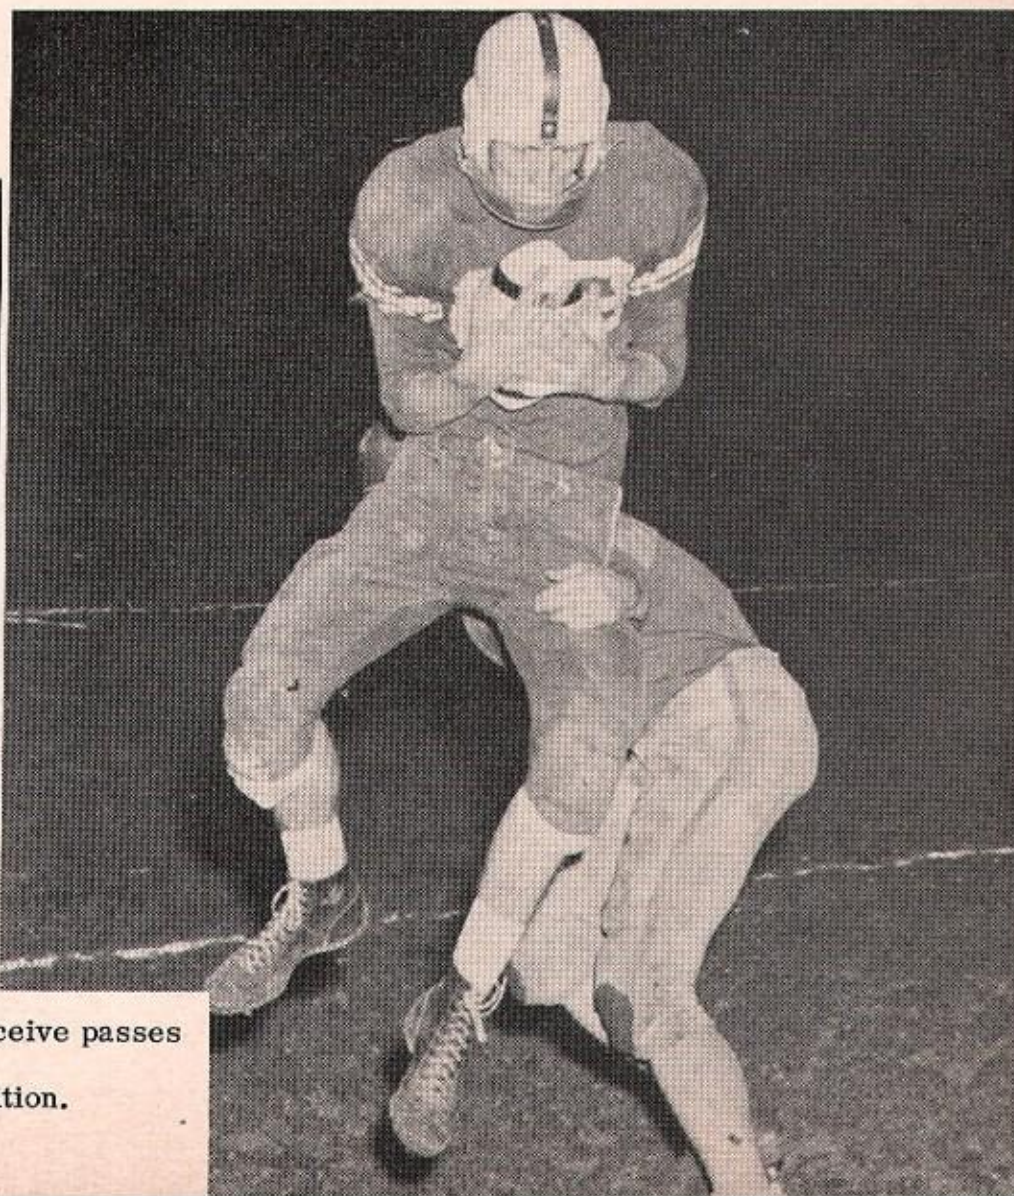

Intense concentration marks the faces of two Card teammates.

Below: Finally relieved from strict training rules, the players stow away a sumptuous meal. Sitting at the tables with the players are their parents and members of the faculty, all smiling and proud.

This banquet is only one of the many harmonious events of the school year in which students, parents, and teachers enjoy themselves in a pleasant get-together.

and Awards Assembly

Coach Signer congratulates Bob Inouye who has just received the "Most-valuable Player" trophy from Mrs. Haggstrom, P.T.A. President.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

Although the junior varsity season was anything but impressive from the standpoint of statistics, the squad repeatedly demonstrated the qualities which will bear fruit in the future seasons. The team's single victory was over Franklin, 7-0, but in no game was there ever the slightest inclination on the part of the squad members to quit trying. Each week found a definite improvement in individual skills and team comprehension of the game--the will to win needed no stimulation; it was an ever present-quantity.

The season ended on a positive note in the final against Roosevelt. After trailing 13-0 in the first half, the baby Cards came to life, and the combination of Satalich to Shunji which had produced the only previous touchdown clicked for six points, and the team went on to tie the game.

Coach Don Bryant predicted that this same squad would continue to improve and would become the nucleus of the first division teams in the PIL in 1956 and 1957.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

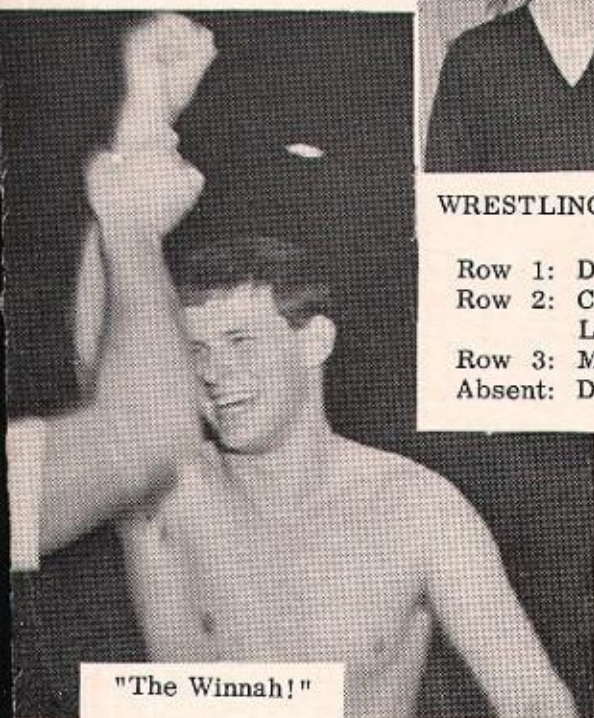

Although small in numbers this year's freshman squad was not lacking in spirit. A 21-0 win over the Washington Freshmen in the final game gave them fifth place tie in the PIL freshmen league.

Jackson, Howard, and Scales were outstanding in the backfield with Spencer, Grenfell, Bunch, Mendoza and Hornstein standing out in the line.

Wrestling

SUMMARY OF SEASON

Wrestling returned to the Card roster of sports in the fall of 1955, after a lapse of about fifteen years. Three of the sixteen mat-men on Lincoln's wrestling team this year captured first-place gold medals in the city-wide meet.

Junior Les Pratt, who fought in the 148-lb. class, and Sophomore Larry Hoover, 158, were awarded the emblems after an undefeated season of 7 victories and no defeats. Team captain, Senior George Finch, a 178-pounder, won his with a record of six wins and one defeat.

By winning city championships, these boys qualified for the state tournament at Corvallis, but due to lack of experience they did not place.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

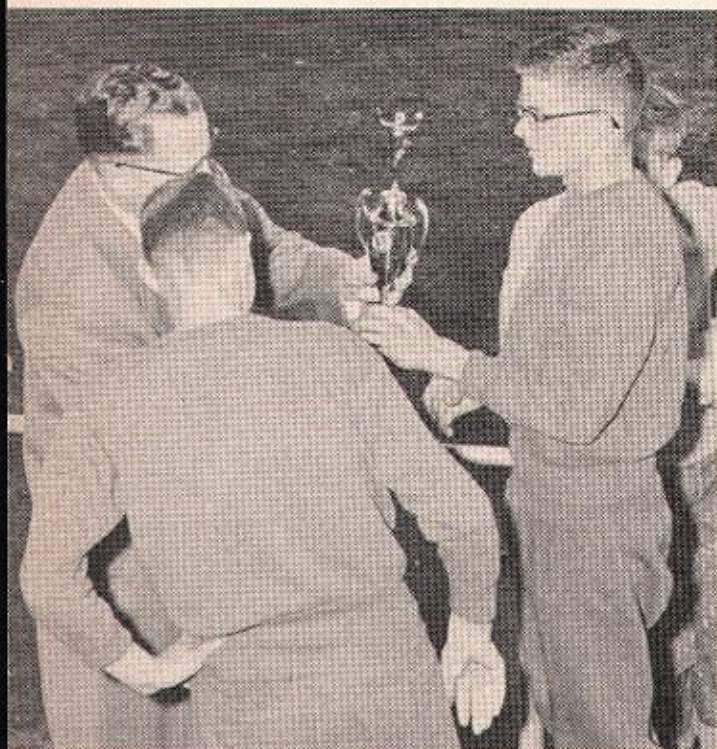

Lincoln's cross-country team was off to a strong start at the beginning of the fall term with a record turn out of over 55 aspiring harriers, including a score of freshmen. Most of these stuck to it with great determination.

The lean, lanky, and tough lads won all triangles, making several "perfect scores".

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Coach Wayne Sturdivant's charges came through the 1956 season taking third place in the city and then going on to take third in the State Tournament at Eugene.

Starting slowly, the Cards gradually turned into one of the most formidable teams in the state. Notable is the fact that in league play the Axmen twice beat Franklin, the state champs.

The prospects for next year are good, even though most of the first string lettermen are graduating or will be playing for the new Woodrow Wilson High School next fall.

However, with such promising and tall players as Anderson and La Borde, the Cards have the nucleus of a team to be reckoned with.

J V & Freshman Basketball

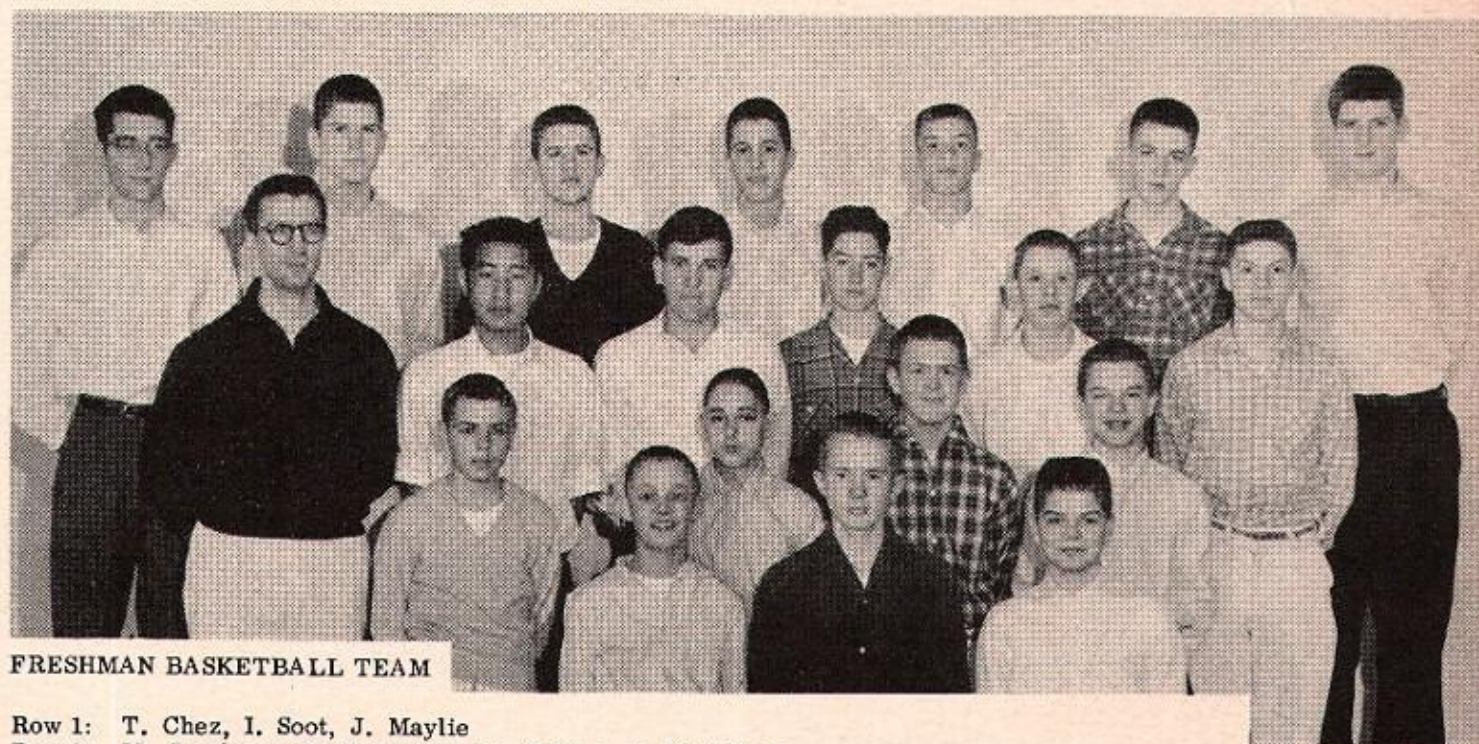

SUMMARY OF J. V. SEASON

The J. V. Basketball squad came through the season with 14 losses and 8 wins, failing for the first time in recent years to make first or second place.

The promotion of Paul Goddard, sophomore, to the varsity team was a great loss to the J. V's., but his performance was an inspiration to them. Promising players coming up from this aggregation are: C. Haag, Captain and Guard; G. Beall, Center; B. Freeman, Guard; L. Underwood, Guard; and P. Nolan, Center.

Below:

SUMMARY OF FRESHMAN SEASON

The Freshman team came through a fair season with an over-all record of 5 wins and 9 losses, but with a great deal of experience behind them. Beside league play with other high school freshmen, the Card Babes met aggregations from the local elementary schools, the Optimist Club squad, and teams from Neighborhood House. The promotion of their teammates, Ken Scales and Bill Tattam, to the J. V. team crippled the youngsters, but they are looking forward to a good season in the Fall of 1956.

CITY CHAMPIONS

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

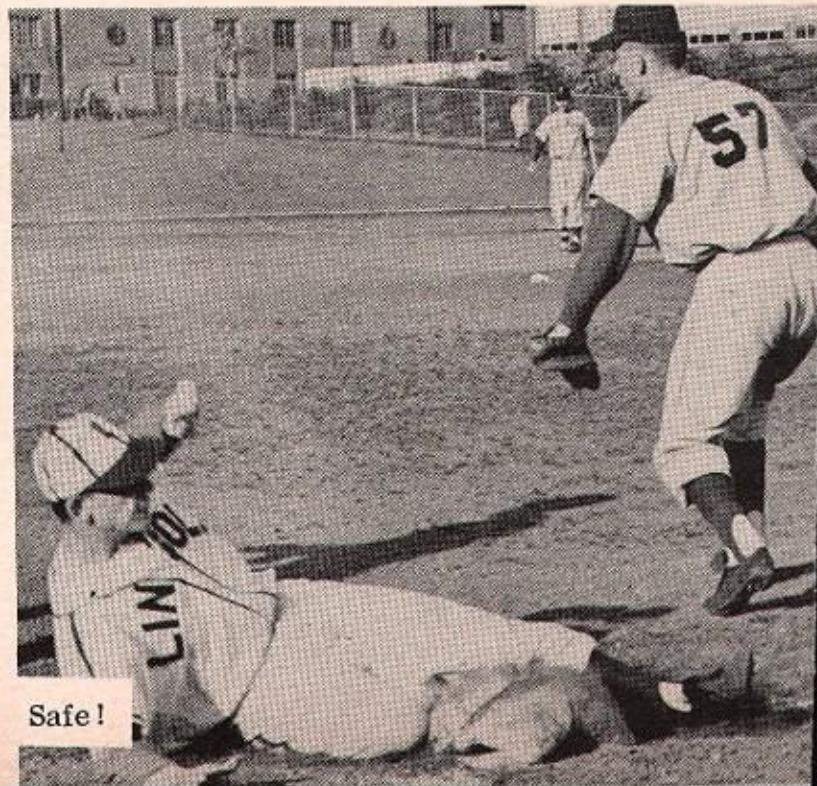

The Cards, under the coaching of Jim Partlow, and aided by the fabulous arm of Mickey Lolich, fought to first place in the P. I. L. this year. After sitting in the Co-Champions' seat for one week-end, they moved up to occupy the spotlight alone when Grant lost one of the necessary games to shift the Partlow team over the line.

The Cards ended with an 11-win 3-lose record.

With only five players graduating, the Lincoln team has the remaining substance from which champions are made. The prognosticators are busy with predictions for the 1957 season.

J. V. SUMMARY

Lincoln's J. V. baseball team finished the season with a record of 4 wins, 3 losses, and a tie for second place.

Senior John Ardiel has given four years of delightful entertainment to Lincoln and community.

Swimming

SUMMARY OF SEASON

BOYS: With one outstanding star in their aggregation, Senior Terry Kelly, the boys placed second in the city meet, and fourth in the state. This was two and one points, respectively, better than they did in the 1955 season.

GIRLS: The girls also had an outstanding star in Carol McKelligon, sophomore, who will be sorely missed next year when she transfers to the new Woodrow Wilson High School.

The team finished third in the city and fourth in the state, a slight decline from the last year's standing.

The two teams ended the season with a joint meeting and supper dance at the home of Mrs. Shoemaker.

Carol McKelligon, who swims with the touted Multnomah Club Team receives her letter from Coach Shoemaker. Carol's record places her on the roster of M.A.C.'s most promising young stars.

Acknowledgments

GOODBYE TO ALL THIS

Exercising the privilege of a thirty-year veteran adviser to Lincoln publications, I shall speak in the first person here, making Acknowledgments, in my last issue of the yearbook, to all of those persons and firms in the community who have helped us this year--and all previous years. Hereafter I shall devote all of my time to the English Department and the Educational Enrichment Program.

Working as adviser for school publications is a happy experience for a teacher. Through such work one gains more than a fine classroom relationship, satisfying though that may be. Enduring with young people the pressures of meeting a deadline; struggling with them through the many problems inherent in organization and lay-out; enjoying with them the delights of success--these things develop a real camaraderie; they cement true and lasting friendships.

I salute the excellent 1956 staff. I salute all of the staffs with whom I have worked. Our hearts are bound together by a very strong tie. We have enjoyed a labor of love together.

I shall be truly relieved to turn the yearbook over to Mr. Macoubrie next fall. --But, in the words of the immortal bard, "Parting is such sweet sorrow!"
